Areas of good practice/commendation

Any particular strengths or distinctive or innovative features in relation to learning, teaching and assessment:

(a) The operation and conduct of the Progression and Award Board (and/or Module Board meeting you may also have attended).

External Examiner's report summary

I have not attended any award boards this year.

(b) The action, if any was required, taken in response to your report of last year. (This will not be relevant if you are examining for the first time.)

(c) The overall performance of the students, in relation to that of comparable levels of work in other institutions.

The performance of students is entirely in line with expectations.

(d) The strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills.

Basic knowledge on the whole is generally good but as expected there are big differences in the ability to apply this knowledge to the specific task at hand.

(e) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

(a) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

All very good, see comments above about the practical nature of them and how well that works.

(f) The curriculum, teaching or resourcing of the programme of study as indicated by the performance of the students in the assessment

The students appear well prepared for the nature of the assessment and that is reflected in the overall results.

(g) Comments on the use of My Beckett (Virtual Learning Environment) within the course (if applicable).

I have only used this on a very basic level.

(h) Module content, consistency of modules and module assessment across the course and the achievement of learning outcomes. (You may be asked by your School to provide detailed comments on the modules that you examine.)

External Examiner's report summary

I think the modules work well as a package for the reasons I have mentioned above, which is that they tend to have a similar feel and focus.

(i) Areas of student/staff engagement in teaching and learning, scholarship, research or professional practice.

Such comments may not have a direct bearing on standards set and achieved or the conduct of processes and so it may not be appropriate to include them elsewhere in this report or its summary. Please record any concerns or comments you may have here.

(k) Collaborative Provision: please include here any comments you wish to make on elements of collaborative provision for which you have responsibility (in addition to those you may have indicated previously in this report).
