

Get to know you bingo!

In Get to know you bingo, players take turns placing a puck on a shared 6x5 Bingo board filled with different personal statements. On your turn, choose a square that describes something true about you and place your puck on it. Each player can place only one puck per turn, and each square can be claimed only once. The group's goal is to create a line (horizontal, vertical, or diagonal) made up of one puck from each player. Once a full line is completed, the game ends, and everyone tries to recall which statement each puck covers and who placed it. If the board fills up before a line is made, simply take a moment to reflect on the most surprising or interesting things you learned about each other.

I work a part-time job while studying	I've joined a Zoom call in pyjamas	I pulled an all-nighter to finish an assignment	I've used AI or ChatGPT for study help	I've been confused during a lecture but didn't ask
I've been to a music festival or concert recently	One thing I'm proud of is...	If I could instantly master one skill, it would be...	I know more than one language	I've been to the cinema in the last 6 months
I've had a great idea at the worst possible time	I have never...	I've played a game on my phone in the past 24 hours	I've made a new friend this year	A food I'll never get tired of is...
I have always wanted to...	I've taken a picture of food before eating it	I sing in the shower	I've talked to a pet or animal recently	I've watched something just to feel nostalgic
One place I'd love to visit is...	I have a brother and/or sister	I've hit snooze more than once this week	I've had to Google how to cook something basic	I've had to explain my degree to a family member
I've met someone famous (or almost famous)	A film or show I could rewatch forever is...	I've had a random conversation with a stranger	I've been to Manchester or Liverpool in the past year	I've discovered a new interest or passion since starting university
