Course Overview

The broad principle underpinning the provision of individualised programmes is to provide an award-bearing programme of study for students who:

- Want to pursue a study-programme based primarily within a sport disciplinary content and within the Carnegie School of Sport's portfolio of sport modules.
- Need a more flexible study-programme than can be provided by the School's portfolio of other awards.

It is possible for this requirement to be met through APL, CEL, or CCL subject to general University parameters for credit-based learning. Entrants can be credited to enter with a maximum 50% credit towards the level of entry.

Aims

The aims of the programme are to:

- Broaden access to Higher Education, especially for those students for whom the mode, content, and location of existing provision is inappropriate.

- Increase the opportunities for learners to control the pace, location and content of their own learning:
 - a) In accordance with their individual personal and professional goals;
 - b) In response to changes and development in their individual needs and circumstances.
- Facilitate the incorporation and accreditation of prior learning, both experiential and certificated, within programmes of HE.
- Increase the opportunities for professional updating and career development through programmes of study based upon modules from one or more existing HE programmes.
- Provide the opportunity for individuals to draw from a range of sport contexts and vocational areas and for reflective practice and consideration of professional issues and work-related issues.

Course Learning Outcomes

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

1. Critically analyse and evaluate information and data relevant to their chosen area of sport.
2. Critically review and evaluate contemporary issues within their chosen area of sport.
3. Demonstrate an autonomous and critically aware approach to personal, professional and academic development.
4. Plan, design, execute and communicate a sustained piece of independent work.

To achieve an Ordinary Degree award, students will be able to:

1. Critically analyse and evaluate information and data relevant to their chosen area of sport.
2. Critically review and evaluate contemporary issues within their chosen area of sport.
3. Demonstrate an autonomous and critically aware approach to personal, professional and academic development.

Teaching and Learning Activities

Summary

Learning and teaching strategies used on this course include but are not limited to:

- attendance at interactive lectures making meaningful contributions through advanced preparatory reading
- participation in tutorials where small groups of students will engage and contribute to learning activities
- engagement and contribution to laboratory/practical sessions
- organising and conducting laboratory and field data collection, analysis and interpretation
- working independently to research relevant literature predominantly using

- electronic databases and search engines
- completing weekly directed study activities/formative assessments informing the content of scheduled sessions and providing opportunities for feedback
- participating in practical workshops to experience/develop the skills required in delivering programmes in a variety of sport related contexts
- leading practical sessions on physical activity for a variety of target populations.

The blend of learning approaches will involve a combination of face-to-face facilitated learning, online learning and self-study which will differ by module and across levels. The main emphasis on BSc (Hons) Sports Studies (Top Up) is face to face learning, a relatively high proportion of which is practical.

Your Modules

This information is correct for students progressing through the programme within standard timescales. Students who are required to undertake repeat study may be taught alternate modules which meet the overall course learning outcomes. Details of module delivery will be provided in your timetable.

Several pathways will be offered to the entrants to this course – selection of the appropriate strand will take place during the induction week, by negotiation with the course director and academic advisor based on each student’s academic and professional background (e.g. the nature of the previous qualifications). Students will choose modules from other courses within the School or Sport, which have been specifically selected to reflect learning key to each discipline and therefore pathway.

Assessment Balance and Scheduled Learning and Teaching Activities by Level

A standard module equates to 200 notional learning hours, which may be comprised of teaching, learning and assessment, any embedded placement activities and independent study. Modules may have more than one component of assessment.

The assessment balance and scheduled learning and teaching activities will be dependent upon which strand and option modules you select; selection of the appropriate strand will take place during the induction week.

Learning Support

If you have a question or a problem relating to your course, your Course Administrator is there to help you. Course Administrators work closely with academic staff and can make referrals to teaching staff or to specialist professional services as appropriate. They can give you a confirmation of attendance letter, and a transcript. You may also like to contact your Course Rep or the Students' Union Advice team for additional support with course-related questions.

If you have any questions about life at our University in general, call into or contact the Student Advice Hub on either campus. This team, consisting of recent graduates and permanent staff, are available to support you throughout your time here. They will make sure you have access to and are aware of the support, specialist services, and opportunities our University provides. There is a Student Advice Hub on the ground floor of the Rose Bowl at City Campus and one in Campus Central at Headingley. You can also find the team in the Gateway in the Leslie Silver Building at City Campus. Email enquiries may be directed to studentadvicehub@leedsbeckett.ac.uk.

Within MyBeckett you will see two tabs (Support and Opportunities) where you can find online information and resources for yourselves. The Support tab gives you access to details of services available to give you academic and personal support. These include Library Services, the Students' Union, Money advice, Disability advice and support, Wellbeing, International Student Services and Accommodation. There is also an A-Z of Support Services, and access to online appointments/registration.

The Opportunities tab is the place to explore the options you have for jobs, work placements, volunteering, and a wide range of other opportunities. For example, you can find out here how to get help with your CV, prepare for an interview, get a part-time job or voluntary role, take part in an international project, or join societies closer to home.
