Course Overview

Aims

The aims of the programme are to develop beginning teachers with the knowledge, confidence and skill to make a difference in education. The award of Qualified Teacher Status is integral to the award and the course is delivered through periods of study in University and practice in schools in our partnership region. At entry students select one of two pathways, focussing on the 3-7 or 5-11 age phases.

The course develops in students the LBU 'teacher attributes' which are expressed as compassionate, inclusive, creative, knowledgeable and research-informed professionals. A commitment to inclusion and social justice, at the heart of the School of Education, underpins the course design. Modules have been developed to reflect the learning pathway at LBU as students move from level 4, transition through level 5, contextualisation to level 6, independence. The expectations of students in professional placement mirror the development of knowledge and skill as exemplified in the pathway.

The course meets in full the minimum requirements as specified by the DfE in the ITT Core Content Framework.

Through the course, students will:

- Develop and deepen their subject and curricular knowledge in order to confidently teach English, mathematics, science and the full range of Foundation subjects
- Gain an in-depth understanding of the pedagogical principles and practice of teaching and learning within the chosen age range
- Take a holistic approach to nurturing young learners and apply the principles of the Early Years Foundation Stage (3-7 pathway)
- Understand how children learn, and respond to the individual needs of pupils aged 3-11 by adapting, evaluating and analysing adaptive teaching approaches
- Develop and articulate their teacher identity through academic and professional study and practice
- Apply a creative and inclusive approach in teaching practice
- Become a research-informed teacher by undertaking a practitioner enquiry project

Course Learning Outcomes

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

1	Become a compassionate, creative and knowledgeable teacher, meeting the Teachers' Standards in full
2	Demonstrate comprehensive subject, curricular and pedagogic knowledge and understanding for teaching in the chosen age phase
3	Evidence a commitment to inclusive practice and social justice through a child-centred commitment and pedagogical practice
4	Evidence a research-informed and evidenced-based approach to practice, underpinned by critical reflection and the ability to synthesise a theoretical and practice-informed understanding
5	Critically evaluate and reflect on own practice through the articulation of a personal teacher identity

Teaching and Learning Activities

Summary

Each module integrates a theory and practice approach, underpinned by research-informed teaching. A blend of whole cohort lectures and seminar group delivery ensures that students develop the subject and curricular knowledge required along with a deep pedagogic understanding. Seminar delivery enables tutors to model good primary and early years practice and enables students to acquire skills and confidence in their professional practice as they progress from level 4 through to level 6. Students learn within an active, collaborative and inclusive environment. All students take a common module, placement and assessment structure. Module delivery is tailored for students in each strand in order to provide phase specific module content.

The integration of centre based and school based training ensures that students' learning continues in each setting supported both by University tutors and expert mentors within the ITE partnership. Students use the e-portfolio tool, Pebble Pad to evidence their personal subject knowledge development and to monitor and record their learning in placement with input from University tutors and mentors.

Academic support is provided by module tutors and personal tutors and the academic library team.

Students are provided with pre-and post-session follow up reading and focussed tasks. In each module there is an expectation of guided independent study in order for students to develop their personal subject, curricular and pedagogic knowledge.

Assessment Balance and Scheduled Learning and Teaching Activities by Level

The assessment balance and overall workload associated with this course are calculated from core modules and typical option module choices undertaken by students on the course. They have been reviewed and confirmed as representative by the Course Director but applicants should note that the specific option choices students make may influence both assessment and workload balance.

A standard module equates to 200 notional learning hours, which may be comprised of teaching, learning and assessment, any embedded placement activities and independent study. Modules may have more than one component of assessment.

Assessment

Level 4 is assessed by course work predominately and assessment in professional practice.

Level 5 is assessed by course work predominately and assessment in professional practice.

Level 6 is assessed by course work predominately and assessment in professional practice.

Workload

The number of hours of workload generally equates to 1200 per level for an honours degree, corresponding to the national standard of 10 notional hours of learning for each UK HE credit point.

Overall Workload*	Level 4	Level 5	Level 6
Teaching, Learning and Assessment	239 hours (approx.)	195 hours (approx.)	140 hours (approx.)
Independent Study	541 hours (approx.)	605 hours (approx.)	660 hours (approx.)
