Teaching and Learning Activities

Summary

The learning and teaching on this programme places the student at the centre of the experience by fostering an inclusive, supportive, caring and challenging environment. The teaching and learning approaches adopted within modules are designed to sensitise students to contemporary issues in Physical Education and youth sport and challenge their own assumptions and practices in those contexts. The blend of teaching and learning methods in modules will involve a combination of face-to-face facilitated learning - key lectures on substantive areas, complimented by seminars (staff and student led), online learning (on and offsite), and self-study through directed reading and independent study tasks. This will differ by module and across the different levels of the postgraduate programme. The main emphasis is face-to-face learning in small seminar groups.

Your Modules

This information is correct for students progressing through the programme within standard timescales. Option modules listed are indicative of a typical year. There may be some variance in the availability of option modules. Students who are required to undertake repeat study may be taught alternate modules which meet the overall course learning outcomes. Details of module delivery will be provided in your timetable.

Students must choose at least two of the three core modules. If a student chooses only two of the three core modules, one of the following option modules must also be selected.

Recommended part time course structure for a student undertaking the PG Certificate

Level	CORE
PG Cert Year one	CORE: Curriculum, Pedagogy and Practice in Physical Education (semester two)
PG Cert Year two	CORE: Understanding Young People's Experiences of Physical Education (semester two)
PG Cert Years one or two	OPTION: One to be taken in either year one or two (semester one or two)

The part-time study pattern outlined above reflects a recommended course study structure. However, it is recognised that for some students undertaking part-time study more flexibility will be needed in terms of number of modules completed each year as well as the order of modules studied.

Assessment Balance and Scheduled Learning and Teaching Activities

The assessment balance and overall workload associated with this course are calculated from core modules and typical option module choices undertaken by students on the course. They have been reviewed and confirmed as representative by the Course Director but applicants should note that the specific option choices students make may influence both assessment and workload balance.

A standard module equates to 200 notional learning hours, which may be comprised of teaching, learning and assessment, any embedded placement activities and independent study. Modules may have more than one component of assessment.

Assessment

On this course students will be assessed predominantly by coursework and practical assessments with some examinations, but this will vary depending upon the core and option modules chosen.

Workload

Overall Workload
Teaching, Learning and Assessment	78 hours
Independent Study	522 hours
Placement	*

* These hours will be dependent upon the option modules chosen and the choice of assessment mode taken
