A British higher education degree is universally recognised and respected around the world, with thousands of people coming to study in the UK each year.

Inspired by a high level of academic teaching, students graduating from a British university have the expertise, confidence and skills that employers are looking for. By studying in the UK, you will also develop your English language ability to a high standard, which could enhance your career options.

At Leeds Beckett University, we promise you a high-quality educational experience that will prepare you for your chosen career. We are proud to have a diverse community of students from 143 different countries and territories around the world.

UK academic year

The academic year in the UK normally starts in September, with some programmes starting in January. You will learn in lectures, tutorials and seminars. There will also be periods of independent learning, and your assessments could include a mixture of essays, exams and portfolio development.

You may already know the subject you want to study, but knowing which qualification is right for you may not be so obvious. Here is a quick guide to the types of qualifications we offer.

A degree is typically:

- Three years for a Bachelors degree
- One year for a taught postgraduate Masters degree

University Preparation

Pre-sessional English language

This is a short course of between 6-10 weeks in length that helps you improve your English skills to study your degree. It will also help prepare you for university life and UK culture.

Foundation year

Foundation courses are one year and prepare you for your Bachelors degree and UK university life. You will enhance your academic and study skills, and for some subjects you can study your chosen course during your foundation year.

Undergraduate

Bachelors –

BA (Hons) / BSc (Hons) / BEng (Hons)

These are three-year courses which you apply for following high school or college. They stand for Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Engineering.

Sandwich course

This is a Bachelors degree that includes a one-year work placement in industry. Normally you will study for two years before your placement year, undertaking your third year after your placement year.

MEng / MPlan

An Integrated Bachelors and Masters course that lasts for four years. You will start your Bachelors degree in Year 1 and finish with a Masters qualification.

Postgraduate - Taught

Masters – MA / MSc

A Masters course is one year, although there are exceptions. You can study a Master of Arts (MA) or a Master of Science (MSc). You would usually study an MSc or MA following the completion of a Bachelors degree.

PG Diploma

You will study about six modules from a Masters course but will not be required to complete a dissertation or an independent project.

PG Certificate

You will study three modules from a Masters course. You don't need to complete a dissertation or independent project.

Postgraduate - Research

MRes (Master of Research)

This is a stepping stone from undergraduate to PhD-level research. With a focus on developing your research skills, this course usually takes one year to complete full-time.

MPhil (Master of Philosophy)

This programme of study requires high-level investigative research, evaluation and critical analysis skills. It is full-time across three years and your final thesis will be assessed by viva voce (oral examination).

PhD (Doctor of Philosophy)

Usually studied full-time over four years, a PhD is a programme of supervised research and is the highest level of postgraduate study. You will contribute new knowledge to your field of study.

Leeds Beckett University has been offering quality education for almost 200 years.

Take a look at the key events in our history timeline below.

CITY OF CULTURE

Known for its rich cultural scene the city is spoilt with several museums, galleries, theatres and music venues.

Royal Armouries
Royal Armouries houses one of the largest collections of weaponry from around the world.

Leeds Rhinos
Men's and women's Super League teams

Temple Newsam
Built in 1518, this Tudor-Jacobean mansion is set within 1,500 acres of beautiful parkland and gardens, and features a farm, gift shop and tea rooms.

CITY OF FESTIVALS

Leeds hosts so many festivals that it's impossible to list them all here. Whether you love food, music, literature, dance, film or innovation, there's sure to be one that you'll fall in love with.

Leeds Light Night
More than 60 free art events by local, national and international artists transform the city centre's indoor and outdoor spaces.

Leeds has been awarded Purple Flag status in recognition of the fact the city centre is clean and offers a lively and safe night out.

Kirkgate Market
One of the largest indoor markets in Europe, Kirkgate Market is home to hundreds of stalls selling fresh food from all over the world.

CITY OF HERITAGE

Dating back to the 5th Century, its rich history, a wealth of historic buildings and culture reflect its diverse and fascinating past.

Kirkstall Abbey
Visit the picturesque ruins of this monastery founded in 1152.

Leeds is based in one of the most beautiful counties in the UK: Yorkshire. Home to rolling hills, picturesque villages and historic landmarks.

The Corn Exchange
Opened in 1864 for corn traders, this impressive Victorian building is now home to independent retailers and cafes.

The Yorkshire Sculpture Park is an open-air art gallery in the middle of the countryside, just a short drive from Leeds.

CITY OF SHOPPING

With high-street retailers rubbing shoulders with luxury designer stores, it's no surprise that Leeds is regarded as one of the best shopping destinations in the UK.

THE LBU COMMUNITY

Find out more by chatting to one of our students:
leedsbeckett.ac.uk/talk-to-a-student

We think Leeds is one of the best cities to live and study. As a Leeds Beckett student, you'll have loads of opportunities to meet new people and take part in lots of social activities.

Join a society

We have dozens of student societies, including a variety for international students. These societies also arrange nights out, such as karaoke, pub quizzes and other social activities, where you can meet new friends. Our Global Village will keep you up to date with the many events hosted for international students.

Weekend trips

Within the first few weeks of starting your course, you'll be able to join organised weekend excursions to neighbouring cities, such as the historic city of York.

These trips offer a chance to socialise with your peers and learn more about British history and culture.

Get a sports membership

Our fitness classes are a great way to meet new people. You could book a tennis court with friends or take part in team games.

You can also use the pool, tennis courts and gym facilities – this is a great way to socialise and keep fit.

Be a Student Ambassador

Many of our international students join our Student Ambassador scheme and are paid to work at university events like our Open Days. The pay is competitive, and it could help you with your living costs and study materials.

Be a volunteer

Whether you want to support a worthy cause, experience the running of a large cultural event or manage your own volunteering project, our Students' Union offers a huge range of opportunities to fit around your commitments.

"My advice is to take advantage of the opportunity to get outside of your comfort zone. Joining a society and attending events are a great way to make new friends and try new things."

Alexys Berens, USA

YOUR NEW HOME

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/accommodation

A great way to make lifelong friends is by staying in university accommodation when studying in Leeds.

Living in university accommodation

You're spoilt for choice with the different accommodation options available across our campuses. You could live in a shared flat with other students. Here you'll get your own bedroom, some have en-suite facilities, and a shared communal kitchen and living area.

If you want more privacy, you could choose an apartment complete with en-suite facilities and your own kitchen.

Safe living

With security provided around the clock and the Residential Life team on hand to help you with any queries, you'll feel safe and supported in university accommodation.

Convenient living

All of our university accommodation options are conveniently located near shops and supermarkets. Most of the UK's big supermarkets are well-stocked with international products – perfect for when you're craving an authentic taste of home.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS HAVE TO SAY:

"I would advise students to live in university accommodation – it's really easy to make friends as you'll meet people studying different courses. Bills are included in the cost and there is 24-hour security, so you don't need to do anything. Just enjoy your stay."

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/accommodation

We have a fantastic choice of accommodation, which will give you a safe, secure and sociable start to university life. Our halls have free Wi-Fi, and your rent will include the cost of your utility bills.

If you like the idea of being close to Leeds' thriving nightlife, our city centre accommodation is ideal, with lots of pubs, clubs, entertainment venues and restaurants.

Carnegie Village is perfect if you are studying at Headingley Campus and is close to supermarkets, local shops and bars.

We recommend that you live in our student halls when you come to study with us, but if you prefer to rent from a private landlord in Leeds, Unipol – a student housing charity – will be able to help you find somewhere to live.

* Subject to timetabling and course entry requirements

DISTANCE LEARNING

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/distance-learning

Studying an online course is a great option for anyone looking for a UK education but from the comfort of their own home. Our distance learning courses offer flexible learning, which allows you to balance studying around work, family life or any other commitments. It also means you won't need to relocate and you'll still receive the same recognised qualification as someone studying on campus.

Benefits of distance learning

There are many benefits to studying a Leeds Beckett course online. Here are just a few:

- You can continue to work and balance your studies with your day-to-day routine
- You won't need to relocate to another country
- As long as you can connect to the internet, you'll be able to access everything you need to study online

Online community

You will take part in online discussion groups with your fellow students and support each other, in the same way you would if you were on campus.

Online materials

The online teaching materials you'll use have been designed to help you learn and succeed while studying at home. Our range of online resources include ebooks, study aids and digital journals, and are all accessible via our online library.

Supporting your studies

You'll be supported by a module tutor, who will provide feedback on your work and answer any questions you might have during your studies. You will also have access to our Student Advice and Wellbeing team, who will be on hand to offer guidance on a range of issues, from financial worries to exam stress.

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/research

We are committed to conducting research that makes a difference. Students and staff work together to identify solutions to a wide range of modern-day issues.

"It's not a level playing field for everyone in terms of health."

Dr Maria Maynard
School of Health

Maria's research focuses on health inequalities. She assesses the social, environmental and biological factors that affect health, and develops interventions for those groups who suffer poorer health because of these factors.

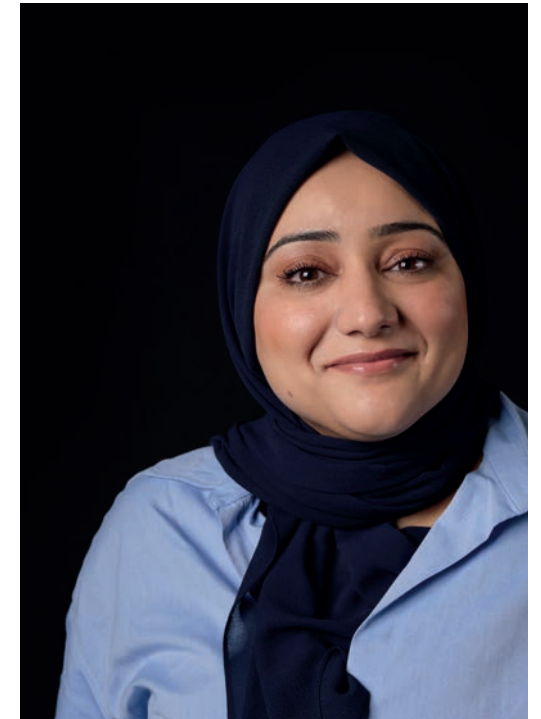

"To think there is just one cause of obesity is very narrow-minded."

Professor Paul Gately
Carnegie School of Sport

Paul is a global leader and pioneer in the field of obesity and weight management, and advises Government and industry. He founded MoreLife, a Leeds Beckett subsidiary company, which delivers programmes to help people live healthier lives.

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/we-inspire

As well as a place for learning, universities are a centre for some of the world's top thinkers. Our academics ask (and answer) the big questions. They bring their expertise into the classroom, helping transform the way our students view the world.

"We're used to instant gratification. We're made to feel that if we don't get it now, it's going to run out and we're not going to be able to have it."

Alistair MacAuley
Leeds Business School

Alistair MacAuley, Senior Lecturer in Business & Management, is an expert in retail management, manufacturing and supply chains. Fashion is one of many business sectors he explores with his students, and it's an industry of major importance when trying to address climate change.

"Diversity is woven throughout our courses. Whatever area we're looking at, we try to make it inclusive and identify areas of difference."

Maryam Riaz
School of Health

Maryam Riaz, Lecturer in Counselling and Mental Health, remembers being the only person of colour as a trainee counsellor. Now, a key area of her work is to train her students to become culturally aware and work confidently with diversity and difference.

SUPPORTING YOU ALL THE WAY

leedsbeckett.ac.uk/countries

Moving to another country to study is a big decision and we are here to support you on your journey. From your university application to when you become a Leeds Beckett University graduate, we will be with you every step of the way.

Meet your country representative

Welcoming you to Leeds

If you arrive at Leeds Bradford Airport, Manchester Airport, Leeds train station or coach station, we will be there to meet you and help you find transport to your accommodation.

In your first week at Leeds Beckett University there are a host of events to help you settle in and meet new people. Whether you want a guided tour of the city of Leeds, need help opening a bank account, finding part-time work or registering with a doctor, our staff will be available to provide lots of practical advice.

Visa and immigration advice

During your time at Leeds Beckett University, you may need some advice about your visa. We have a dedicated team ready to help you with any problems relating to your immigration status, employment opportunities or finances.

Skills for learning

To support you through your studies, we offer a range of free online workshops and one-to-one tutorials throughout the year.

These will refine your academic skills and develop your expertise in IT, numeracy, academic literacy, problem-solving, team working and critical thinking.

Your wellbeing

Whether you're feeling a bit homesick or are feeling anxious about exams, our Wellbeing team can provide free and confidential guidance and emotional support on a range of issues.

24/7 library support

Our library is geared to your learning needs. It has the very latest books and journals from all of our academic areas that you can reserve online.

With dedicated group and individual study spaces, our library has everything you'll need to get the most from your studies.

Get hired

We will provide support with your career planning and preparation, including finding your ideal career and applying for jobs. Gain help writing your CV and job applications, learn about interview skills and how to develop your online presence. We host workshops and provide hundreds of online career resources.

You can access career advice throughout your time at Leeds Beckett University and for up to five years after you graduate.

Your learning

Through inspired teaching and intellectual debate, you will nurture your passion by developing your creative and critical thinking. As part of our dynamic academic community, you will work alongside staff with shared interests, and there will be plenty of opportunities to apply your learning. We work with organisations and partners across Leeds and beyond, exploring how humanities and social sciences contribute to different communities. We spark conversations by hosting regional events, leading quality research and sharing stories.

Pioneering research

Our internationally recognised research is varied and insightful. We have so much to explore in fields such as literature, history, psychology, sociology and media. Our research and teaching cover a diversity of topics, from postcolonial literature to peace, conflict and human rights, environmental history to genders and sexuality, and online racism in football to crime, justice & society.

ROUTE TO A UNIVERSITY DEGREE IF YOU NEED TO IMPROVE YOUR ENGLISH LANGUAGE SCORE

Foundation courses

International Foundation Year

Every student is different, and we want you to find your perfect route into degree-level study. A foundation year could unlock a host of opportunities and careers for you.

A foundation year is an ideal first step into higher education, building your confidence and academic skills so you can meet the entry requirements needed to progress on to your Bachelors course. You can choose to study modules from your preferred degree as part of your foundation year, including business, law, engineering, computing, clinical and applied sciences or art and design.

Integrated Foundation Year Sport, Events, Tourism and Hospitality

We offer Bachelors degrees with an integrated foundation year. In your foundation year, you will study modules that will introduce you to your preferred Bachelors course. Additional modules will develop your academic and study skills so you can progress on to your chosen degree.

COURSE	ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT
International Foundation Year	IELTS 4.5, with no skill below 4.5 or equivalent

PRE-SESSIONAL COURSES

If English is not your first language, our pre-sessional courses will help you achieve the required level of English to study one of our undergraduate or postgraduate degrees.

Study online

Our pre-sessional courses are available online, providing a great way to build your confidence in your English language skills before you start your course in the UK.

DURATION	DEGREE	ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT
6 weeks*	For degrees requiring IELTS 6.0 with no skill below 5.5	IELTS 5.5, with no skill below 5.5
	For degrees requiring IELTS 6.5 with no skill below 5.5	IELTS 6.0, with no skill below 5.5
	For degrees requiring IELTS 6.5 with no skill below 6.0	IELTS 6.0, with no skill below 6.0
10 weeks*	For degrees requiring IELTS 6.0 with no skill below 5.5	IELTS 5.0, with no skill below 5.0

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Student contract

If we offer you a place to study at the University and you accept that offer, a contract will be formed between you and the University, as set out in the Student Contract. By accepting an offer to study at the University you agree to abide by the terms of the Student Contract.

Changes and updates

Every effort is made to ensure that the information in this publication is correct at the time of going to print (Aug 2023). Any changes to this printed prospectus, such as changes to courses, facilities, course arrangements and additional costs, will be made to the online version of the course as soon as is reasonably possible. It is therefore important that you refer to our website for up-to-date information, including the current position in relation to teaching and learning, accommodation, the campus, and the financial, health and wellbeing support provided to students immediately before accepting your offer. For the most up-to-date information about our courses, visit: leedsbeckett.ac.uk/courses

The student's right to cancel

You are entitled to cancel the Student Contract within 14 days of the date of accepting a place to study at the University. In each year of your course you are also entitled to withdraw within 14 days from the date that teaching begins on your course. Where you have withdrawn within these periods you will be entitled to a full refund of fees paid to that point for that academic year.

Option modules

Where a course includes option modules that you can choose as part of your degree, these can be found on the course pages on the University's online prospectus. The availability of option modules is subject to demand, which may mean that not all option modules listed are available to you every year.

Course specifications

As part of the quality control at the University, courses are regularly reviewed. Course specifications in the online prospectus [leedsbeckett.ac.uk/courses] are updated annually to include modifications approved through the University's quality assurance process.

Complaints

If you are an applicant and have a complaint about the admissions process, you should use the Admissions Complaints Procedure. If you have a complaint about the University not related to the admissions process, then you should use the Student Complaints Procedure. If you are still unsatisfied, in many circumstances you have the right to refer your complaint to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator for Higher Education.

Course changes or cancellations

Following acceptance of an offer, if the course is cancelled or substantially changed from the description previously provided to you, the University will inform you by email of the changes and the reason for these changes, at which point you will have the option to explore suitable replacement programmes or withdraw your application with no liability for fees. For further details please refer to clauses 22-32 of the University's Student Contract. The University is required to make you aware of substantial changes to your course during the application process and once you are a student at the University.

Fees

Details of the course fees and any other costs relating to individual courses will be advertised pre-application online via the University's online prospectus and within the offer letter provided to applicants. Assuming there are no breaks in your period of study, the course fees notified to you in your offer letter will remain unchanged for the duration of your course.

Legal liability

The descriptions in this prospectus are not part of the official University regulations and do not constitute an offer to you to study at the University. Please refer to clauses 51-56 of the Student Contract which sets out the circumstances in which the University limits its legal liability following the acceptance of an offer.

Important information for non-UK citizens

Please be aware that Leeds Beckett University cooperates fully with the UK Home Office in the monitoring and control of non-UK citizens who enter the UK for the purposes of study. This cooperation includes the disclosure of information about individual students concerning their status, mode of study, attendance and contact details.
