Information on Fellowship Status and Application

- The CollectivED Fellowship status is an approach to help us to build our networks, and to support Fellows in connecting with each other.
- As we are not an 'institution' we cannot offer Fellows letters after their name – but we would like to invite people to become recognised and encourage them to add 'CollectivED Fellow' to their CV or profile.
- Fellows would hold the status for 3 years and then could reapply to prove currency if they chose to.
- There is no fee for application of Fellowship status.
- Successful fellows will be profiled in CollectivED Working Papers.
- We will work to support the Fellowship community to sustain positive impacts on the lives of educators and outcomes for learners and we will invite Fellows to be proactive in developing approaches to this.

Applications

- The first qualifying criteria is contribution to a CollectivED event or working paper.
- We ask for 500-750 words from the applicant which allows them to articulate how their own practice and / or research aligns with the purposes and values of CollectivED.
- In addition to this we ask for 150-250 words from a colleague / peer / mentee/coachee as validation.
- Decisions on CollectivED Fellow status will be made by a 'Fellowship Committee' made up of members of the CollectivED Advisory Board who will join Professor Rachel Lofthouse (Director of CollectivED) to review applications.
- Applications can be submitted at any point during the academic year and the committee will review these at several points each year.
