Professional Body Requirements
"In my view, the professional body requirements for this course have been met. *Not applicable if the course is not a professional body course please indicate here.	Yes	No	N/A *
	Yes
If your answer is 'no', please provide a brief statement (bullet points) of the respect(s) in which they fall short.

(a) The operation and conduct of the Progression and Award Board (and/or Module Board meeting you may also have attended).
I forwarded a report for the Module board as I was unable to attend, my report being compiled having reviewed all information provided on the previous day. I attended the Progression and Award board, which was lead efficiently by Paul Hirst.

(b) The action, if any was required, taken in response to your report of last year. (This will not be relevant if you are examining for the first time.)
There was variable feedback once again for the students which I identified the previous year.

(c) The overall performance of the students, in relation to that of comparable levels of work in other institutions.
The overall performance is comparable to the other HE university where I am an external examiner.

(d) The strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills.
I had limited feedback from tutors with regards to strengths and weaknesses of students, although there was a large divergence of marks across some modules, eg Management Practice. Further investigation recommended.

(e) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

The standards appear to be both effective and fair, and innovative on occasions with good use of peer assessment in some modules.

(f) The curriculum, teaching or resourcing of the programme of study as indicated by the performance of the students in the assessment.

I identified in my report that in one module there had been too much emphasis on Heritage type work, maybe to the detriment of other methods of construction, and also difficult to assess where marks were unavailable such as within Site Practice module. Overall well constructed modules.

(g) Comments on the use of My Beckett (Virtual Learning Environment) within the course (if applicable).

Personally it was difficult for me to access, which was replicated as there were a number of occasions where all documents from the tutors had not been uploaded. However, there appeared to have been a very effective use of Kahoot within certain modules.

(h) Module content, consistency of modules and module assessment across the course and the achievement of learning outcomes. (You may be asked by your School to provide detailed comments on the modules that you examine.)

I reviewed 9 from 11 modules in quite some depth and identified a broad range of marks obtained, feedback provided from module leaders (in some cases none) and a large disparity in attendance at lectures, which was reflected in the marks achieved.

(i) Areas of student/staff engagement in teaching and learning, scholarship, research or professional practice.

As I suggested last year, there could be more opportunity for students to be given more access to “live” industry exemplars to supplement their academic learning. However, generally effective interaction between students and staff.

(j) The University welcomes external examiners’ comments on its academic regulatory framework. Such comments may not have a direct bearing on standards set and achieved or the conduct of processes and so it may not be appropriate to include them elsewhere in this report or its summary. Please record any concerns or comments you may have here.

I reviewed my module reviews extensively with the Chair of the boards, and would welcome the opportunity to explore these concerns further. They ranged from ineffective use of bespoke planning software, limited feedback, lack of understanding of specific subjects and sufficient time allowed for group working.

(k) Collaborative Provision: please include here any comments you wish to make on elements of collaborative provision for which you have responsibility (in addition to those you may have indicated previously in this report).

Recommended sample sizes at Leeds Beckett University are as follows: a) Samples should be determined by a square root of cohort size, no smaller than 6, no larger than 15. However it should be borne in mind that not all work is assessed in a way that makes a square root sample possible and allowance should be made. For example in subjects such as the performing arts where there may be a requirement for an external to come and view a performance instead, or to visit the exhibition of art work. b) Samples to include all classification categories, and it is helpful to concentrate around the boundaries to include some fails. c) Samples to consist of internally moderated work, clearly evidencing the moderation process.
