If your answer is 'no', please provide a brief statement (bullet points) of the respect(s) in which they fall short.

(a) The operation and conduct of the Progression and Award Board (and/or Module Board meeting you may also have attended).
The board was conducted fairly, with due diligence and in line with regulations. All staff in attendance were prepared and due consideration was given to all students in relation to their work and progression.

(b) The action, if any was required, taken in response to your report of last year. (This will not be relevant if you are examining for the first time.)
N/A

(c) The overall performance of the students, in relation to that of comparable levels of work in other institutions.
Work that I saw was comparable with work that I have seen at other HEIs that I have visited as well as more formally examined

(d) The strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills.
Students showed, like all HEIs a broad range of abilities and application. In general students seemed to have a good grasp of industry relevant knowledge and practice and this was demonstrated in a number of ways across the programme – both in a practical sense and in a more abstract written way. Whether lengthy pieces – such as dissertations or examinations, presentations etc, this was clearly demonstrated.

(e) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

The assignments were all well designed, both as individual assessments as well as a set of varied assessments that allowed students to apply theory and practice in academic and practical contexts

(f) The curriculum, teaching or resourcing of the programme of study as indicated by the performance of the students in the assessment.

The curriculum is well designed and allows students to excel in a variety of different assessment methods. Students appear – through their work – with the course and the staff and there is clear communication between staff and students through feedback.

(g) Comments on the use of My Beckett (Virtual Learning Environment) within the course (if applicable).

N/A

(h) Module content, consistency of modules and module assessment across the course and the achievement of learning outcomes. (You may be asked by your School to provide detailed comments on the modules that you examine.)

Modules are all clearly explained through very detailed handbooks that show weekly delivered content as well as guidance in the independent study needed from the students to successfully complete them. The explanation of assessment methods and learning outcomes are all explored in detail in these handbooks.

(i) Areas of student/staff engagement in teaching and learning, scholarship, research or professional practice.

It is clear that staff are engaged in scholarly and professional activity through their own engagement with the sector as well as publishing. Alongside scholarly activity the detailed modules (see above) show a keen engagement with the course from both staff and students. This is clearly detailed in some of the video projects that the students submit as well as the detailed, individual and personalised feedback that all of the staff give the students on their own modules.

(j) The University welcomes external examiners' comments on its academic regulatory framework. Such comments may not have a direct bearing on standards set and achieved or the conduct of processes and so it may not be appropriate to include them elsewhere in this report or its summary. Please record any concerns or comments you may have here.

The frameworks for assessment and broader regulations relating to progression and development are detailed, open and clear through the boards that I have attended.

(k) Collaborative Provision: please include here any comments you wish to make on elements of collaborative provision for which you have responsibility (in addition to those you may have indicated previously in this report).

Recommended sample sizes at Leeds Beckett University are as follows:
a) Samples should be determined by a square root of cohort size, no smaller than 6, no larger than 15. However it should be borne in mind that not all work is assessed in a way that makes a square root sample possible and allowance should be made. For example in subjects such as the performing arts where there may be a requirement for an external to come and view a performance instead, or to visit the exhibition of art work. b) Samples to include all classification categories, and it is helpful to concentrate around the boundaries to include some fails. c) Samples to consist of internally moderated work, clearly evidencing the moderation process.
