Areas of good practice
Any particular strengths or distinctive or innovative features in relation to learning, teaching and assessment.

- The curriculum and contents of the courses are relevant to industrial logistics best practices and real problems. Students appreciate the relevance to their practice in the logistics area. This is a positive outcome of the curriculum.
- In addition using SAP is a noteworthy and distinctive feature of the Logistics and SCM course; and the related accreditation by two professional bodies is a pre for this course.

(a) The operation and conduct of the Progression and Award Board (and/or Module Board meeting you may also have attended).
The information about meetings and the organisation of all meetings was excellent. The meetings have been efficient and providing opportunities and enough time for discussing the successes, and issues if needed.

(b) The action, if any was required, taken in response to your report of last year. (This will not be relevant if you are examining for the first time.)
The course teaching teams, Discipline Group leaders have promptly responded to all issues raised. Also the discussions that emerge during this academic year are dealt with swiftly and adequately. This should be considered a strength of the current approach to managing courses and programmes.

(c) The overall performance of the students, in relation to that of comparable levels of work in other institutions.
The level of teaching and assessment are at a suitable level compared with other programmes in similar institutions. Related developments and continuous improvements are in progress.

(d) The strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills.

- The practical orientation and the strengths of the courses are based on suitable theoretical background, and using practical case studies as well as latest research informed teaching/learning
- The level of individual modules assignments is suitable, inclusive and aligned with learning outcomes.
- The students should gain additional research skills especially for doing the dissertations applying an elaborated research methodology (i.e. mixed methods) as well as data collection and analysing using quantitative and qualitative methods and software systems such as SPSS, NVIVO or others similar. The literature reviews should be systematic and supported by critical thinking

(e) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

- From the samples it has been noted that second marking and / or moderation are efficiently done.
- The marking should be more standardised where/when possible

(f) The curriculum, teaching or resourcing of the programme of study as indicated by the performance of the students in the assessment.

Resources are up to date and available to students and these are adequate for this type of programmes. However I have not seen details of students feedbacks particularly if they are satisfied with delivery of modules, the facilities at the library (for example, the laptops/pc available and the meeting places).

(g) Comments on the use of My Beckett (Virtual Learning Environment) within the course (if applicable).

n/a

(h) Module content, consistency of modules and module assessment across the course and the achievement of learning outcomes. (You may be asked by your School to provide detailed comments on the modules that you examine.)

The courses have a high level theoretical content aligned with latest developments in green logistics and analysis as well as impacting the practices by using case studies, and software systems for Logistics particularly SAP through University Alliance Network membership. The courses are consistently designed and the modules and learning outcomes are suitably assessed.

(i) Areas of student/staff engagement in teaching and learning, scholarship, research or professional practice.

(j) The University welcomes external examiners' comments on its academic regulatory framework. Such comments may not have a direct bearing on standards set and achieved or the conduct of processes and so it may not be appropriate to include them elsewhere in this report or its summary. Please record any concerns or comments you may have here.

(k) Collaborative Provision: please include here any comments you wish to make on elements of collaborative provision for which you have responsibility (in addition to those you may have indicated previously in this report).

Recommended sample sizes at Leeds Beckett University are as follows:
a) Samples should be determined by a square root of cohort size, no smaller than 6, no larger than 15. However it should be borne in mind that not all work is assessed in a way that makes a square root sample possible and allowance should be made. For example in subjects such as the performing arts where there may be a requirement for an external to come and view a performance instead, or to visit the exhibition of art work. b) Samples to include all classification categories, and it is helpful to concentrate around the boundaries to include some fails. c) Samples to consist of internally moderated work, clearly evidencing the moderation process.
