Introduction

External Examiners are required by the terms of their appointment to submit an annual report. The report will be considered in depth during course annual monitoring activity. A record of the University’s responses to examiners’ reports also forms part of the documentation for this activity. It is also used in compiling our annual report on external examining.

Your report will be widely circulated and shared with Students and therefore we ask you not to refer to anyone by name or in a way that allows identification of an individual.

Please complete all sections of the report unless they are not relevant (such as you do not examine Collaborative or Degree Apprenticeship Provision). This report must be submitted within 28 days of the main Progression and Award Board and failure to submit within the required timescale may result in termination of your tenure as an external examiner without good reason.

NO EXAMINING FEES WILL BE PAID IF YOU FAIL TO SUBMIT YOUR ANNUAL REPORT.

Areas of good practice/commendation

A7) Please outline any particular strengths or distinctive or innovative features you have observed in relation to learning, teaching and assessment:

I continue to judge this distance-learning MSc Psychology (Conversion) an excellent programme to equip students with the knowledge, skills and experience that are necessary to obtain BPS accreditation and prepare them for the next steps in a Psychology-related professional career. In the assessments, students are given a wide range of tasks. This ensures that the learning outcomes of each module are properly covered and helps students to develop their critical thinking and problem-solving skills. Again, I was impressed by the level of feedback provided to students, which strikes a good balance between being critical but supportive.

Section B

Academic Standards

Please advise on the Academic Standards for the Programme:

B1) Do the Courses and its modules continue to be coherent and generally up-to-date and at an appropriate level to enable students to meet the relevant aims and learning outcomes? (required)

Yes

B2) What do you believe were the strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills? (required)

In my view, the performance profile of students on this programme continues to be similar to that of Psychology courses at comparable institutions. As one would expect there is considerable variation of performance at the level of individual modules, but students at higher grades again impressed with some excellent work, both in exams and coursework assignments. In that work students demonstrated detailed, integrated knowledge, evidence of independent reading and very good consideration of theory and methodologies. By contrast, students at the lower end of the spectrum show more limited knowledge, tend to use a narrower range of sources, and only give limited consideration to relevant theories.

B3) Are the marking/grading criteria or marking schemes set at the appropriate level of study and have they been consistently applied including internal moderation processes? (required)

Yes

B4) Did students receive adequate and helpful feedback to inform their future learning? (required)

Yes

B5) In your view please indicate how well you feel the course prepares students for progression to managerial or professional employment or further study? (required)

0= not at all, 10= fully

B6) Please provide any further comments to indicate how the course could better prepare students for progression to managerial or professional employment or further study (if applicable)

B7) Have you had the opportunity to comment on or contribute to a review of the course including any proposed modifications or enhancements to provision? (required)

Yes

B8) If you have answered no to any of the above or would like to add any further points of clarity, please expand in the box below:

Section C

Assessment

Please advise on the Assessment Process for the Programme:

C1) The internal assessment / examination procedures are comparable with similar awards in the UK. (required)

Yes

C2) Procedures for the Exam Boards were fairly and rigorously conducted (including procedures governing extenuating circumstances, academic misconduct and borderline performance), and in accordance with the University’s Academic Regulations. (required)

Yes

C3) The design and structure of the assessment methods used were appropriate; there was comparability within and across modules/awards in terms of level and their effectiveness in measuring the overall learning outcomes. (required)

Yes

C4) There was sufficient rigour in the achievement of learning outcomes in professional placements / work-based learning / work experience (where relevant).

C5) The moderation process is rigorous and there is consistency in marking standards. (required)

Yes

C6) The range of exam papers / assignments provided for sampling purposes and their appropriateness in terms of subject / level / learning outcomes were appropriate. (required)

Yes

C7) If You have answered no to any of the above or would like to add any further points of clarity, please expand in the box below:

Last year I suggested in my report to make the double-marking process of the dissertation report more transparent by providing information about the marks given by the first and second marker, and – in cases where the markers significantly differed in their initial assessment – add a brief comment how the final mark was determined. In their response, the programme team indicated a change in the final marks sheet “to provide clarity to students regarding the marking process”. Perhaps there may have been a slight misunderstanding here (for which I apologize if it happened) because my comment was indeed intended to make the marking process more transparent only for the external examiner rather than the students, for whom a combined response by the two assessors in my view is perfectly adequate. To what extent above suggestions have been implemented this year I don’t know but perhaps the programme team could look into the matter again in the light of this clarification.
