Professional Body Requirements
"In my view, the professional body requirements for this course have been met. *Not applicable if the course is not a professional body course please indicate here.	Yes	No	N/A *
If your answer is 'no', please provide a brief statement (bullet points) of the respect(s) in which they fall short.

(a) The operation and conduct of the Progression and Award Board (and/or Module Board meeting you may also have attended).
The Progression Board I attended was efficiently chaired and the business conducted swiftly and properly.

(b) The action, if any was required, taken in response to your report of last year. (This will not be relevant if you are examining for the first time.)
I noted the verbal report to the 16/17 Board that student appraisals of the Youth Justice module had been poor and indicated that it would be helpful to know why this was the case and any actions arising from the analysis. I could not attend the 17/18 Board so may have missed the update, but the new incoming External may care to review progress on these circumstances.

(c) The overall performance of the students, in relation to that of comparable levels of work in other institutions.
I did not attend the 17/18 Board but the work reviewed has been of a sufficient standard and consistent with standards in other institutions.

(d) The strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills.

As I've remarked in the past students demonstrate a range of capacities to grasp complex conceptual learning material. It is clear that staff encourage them to develop their subject knowledge by creative approaches to teaching and assessment. Some of the highly graded assignments were very strong and reflect positively on students and teaching staff.

(e) The standards of the structure, organisation, design and marking of all examination papers and/or other forms of assessment.

Examination papers and other forms of assessment are of a suitable standard and marking is conducted efficiently to provide suitable feedback to students

(f) The curriculum, teaching or resourcing of the programme of study as indicated by the performance of the students in the assessment.

The modules I have examined are well presented and students are provided with a diverse and suitably challenging range of topics. Students overall performance is appropriately evaluated and feedback is well structured and tailored to their needs.

(g) Comments on the use of My Beckett (Virtual Learning Environment) within the course (if applicable).

Students uploading of recorded presentations seems to work effectively and adds creatively to the range of assessment opportunities.

(h) Module content, consistency of modules and module assessment across the course and the achievement of learning outcomes. (You may be asked by your School to provide detailed comments on the modules that you examine.)

In earlier reports I drew attention to the racialized features of imprisonment and urged vigilance in addressing these dynamics in teaching and learning materials. In my last report I noted some welcome evidence of progress in module handbooks. This should be maintained and enhanced where appropriate, with particular attention to the need to theorise race and racism, and respond to changing aspects of racialized experience within criminal justice systems. For example, the trend toward culture and religion in racialisation, with the particular focus on Muslims, and its consequential impacts in criminal justice should be addressed in module materials.

(i) Areas of student/staff engagement in teaching and learning, scholarship, research or professional practice.

The PRisoN Learning Together module continues to thrive, I understand, and is developing a strong and well-deserved reputation among the growing number of prison/university partnerships.

(j) The University welcomes external examiners' comments on its academic regulatory framework. Such comments may not have a direct bearing on standards set and achieved or the conduct of processes and so it may not be appropriate to include them elsewhere in this report or its summary. Please record any concerns or comments you may have here.

Recommended sample sizes at Leeds Beckett University are as follows: a) Samples should be determined by a square root of cohort size, no smaller than 6, no larger than 15. However it should be borne in mind that not all work is assessed in a way that makes a square root sample possible and allowance should be made. For example in subjects such as the performing arts where there may be a requirement for an external to come and view a performance instead, or to visit the exhibition of art work. b) Samples to include all classification categories, and it is helpful to concentrate around the boundaries to include some fails. c) Samples to consist of internally moderated work, clearly evidencing the moderation process.
