Introduction

External Examiners are required by the terms of their appointment to submit an annual report. The report will be considered in depth during course annual monitoring activity. A record of the University’s responses to examiners’ reports also forms part of the documentation for this activity. It is also used in compiling our annual report on external examining.

Your report will be widely circulated and shared with Students and therefore we ask you not to refer to anyone by name or in a way that allows identification of an individual.

Please complete all sections of the report unless they are not relevant (such as you do not examine Collaborative or Degree Apprenticeship Provision). This report must be submitted within 28 days of the main Progression and Award Board and failure to submit within the required timescale may result in termination of your tenure as an external examiner without good reason.

NO EXAMINING FEES WILL BE PAID IF YOU FAIL TO SUBMIT YOUR ANNUAL REPORT.

Areas of good practice/commendation

A7) Please outline any particular strengths or distinctive or innovative features you have observed in relation to learning, teaching and assessment:

There was a generally a high standard of consistent feedback provided.

Evidence of standardisation and moderation processes was clear and does seem to have worked well. This is a robust system should grades be challenged. I saw only one incident where marks following assessment had to be adjusted by the module leader (due to an assessor sticking rigidly to a marking scheme). This was explained fully in the module documentation and appropriately by the module leader. Thus, there was some good quality assurance undertaken here and will likely result in some further standardisation ‘training’ or awareness for next years’ assessors.

Projects: There was assessment specifically relating to academic skills and professionalism, providing incentives to engage in the various avenues of support offered. For those who did engage in process, this was beneficial to their grade.

Employability: Modules such as these are now common within the sector and they certainly have an important place in every curriculum. For the job interview and application process one assessor feedback I read stated whether the student would have been shortlisted and whether they were appointable. If not already, I would urge staff to develop this as a standard feedback criterion for each. If appropriately worded this will give confidence to those students who engage and prepare well and may act as a professional nudge to those who may have not taken the assessment seriously. Either result is, in many ways, positive for all students in generating awareness of the effort required to generate successful applications, selection for interview and perform well, giving them a better chance of appointment in a competitive job market.

Performance in extreme environments: Here there was clear use of the multidisciplinary team approach often used in sport and exercise science (and many other disciplines) to the assessment, in what is often considered predominantly physiological content. All key sport and exercise disciplines had to be considered in detail within the assessment.

Section B

Academic Standards

Please advise on the Academic Standards for the Programme:

B1) Do the Courses and its modules continue to be coherent and generally up-to-date and at an appropriate level to enable students to meet the relevant aims and learning outcomes? (required)

Yes

B2) What do you believe were the strengths and weaknesses of the students in general with respect to knowledge, conceptual grasp or application of skills? (required)

The students seem to be able to grasp the applied nature of Sport and Exercise Science and are prepared with real world scenarios.

B3) Are the marking/grading criteria or marking schemes set at the appropriate level of study and have they been consistently applied including internal moderation processes? (required)

Yes

B4) Did students receive adequate and helpful feedback to inform their future learning? (required)

Yes

B5) In your view please indicate how well you feel the course prepares students for progression to managerial or professional employment or further study? (required)

0= not at all, 10= fully

8

B6) Please provide any further comments to indicate how the course could better prepare students for progression to managerial or professional employment or further study (if applicable)

The course has many applied aspects and employability points. The question is probably more related to how to engage the entire cohort fully.

B7) Have you had the opportunity to comment on or contribute to a review of the course including any proposed modifications or enhancements to provision? (required)

N/A

B8) If you have answered no to any of the above or would like to add any further points of clarity, please expand in the box below:

D8) Are there any general or specific comments on the development and support offered by the University, especially improvements you would like to see:

Administrative support has been excellent. The use of a Sharepoint link was a welcome development in accessing all the required assessment and module information.
All modules had the standardised module reports form etc., which made the examiners role easier, a point I raised last year.

D9) If You have answered no to any of the above or would like to add any further points of clarity, please expand in the box below:

D4 - I did have two exams sent to me very late which meant I was not able to provide comments on time for one – however, these were assessment questions I had previously moderated so was no quality issue per se.
D7 - I don't remember having such an induction, however I am experienced in external examining and this is not a major concern.

Final Comments

Are there any other final comments you would like to make in relation to your role as External Examiner?

Both the module and progression boards ran smoothly. Boards were rigorous, consistent and fair.

Staff were well prepared for both boards and the 'behind the scenes' work was evident.

As with last year there was a good set of final results for each level. My initial tally of the classifications of each level of study at the programme board (not an official analysis), showed there was a clear levelling up at L4 with students performing well (likely) in areas they had studied before, and learn appropriately in area they had not. Subsequently, there was a good number of higher grades at L4 (27% first class; 46% 2i; 24% 2ii). As expected, the distribution of grades shifted at L5 with fewer first class and 2i grades but these were still very good and deserved (18% first class; 34% 2i, 37% 2ii) with a similar profile maintained at L6 (21% first class; 37% 2i; 33% 2ii) which is commendable (and likely reflects entry grades?).

Results were presented according to academic advisor group, although not affecting my role per se, it shows (as I understand it) a consolidated approach to pastoral and academic support across a large number of students, which can only be beneficial.

Last year a number of modules cropped up as fail repeats (Young athlete development, Sport and exercise science in action) which does not seem to have occurred this year. Students therefore seem to have a better grasp of what is required, either through their own engagement or staff explanation.

This year I was also aware of The Dean’s list, providing acknowledgment of good student performance rather than focussing on those students who are struggling.

The use of AI by students in writing assessments was noted for the first time and demonstrates a sector wide shift regarding originality. Leeds Beckett therefore seem to be on top of such developments.

There were some minor wording errors on some students feedback – staff need to be sure that descriptors are appropriate for the grade, for example, stating ‘Very good explanation...’ but awarded 55% does not tally. There may have been a good introduction to an answer, but then staff need to clearly state what was not included or resulted on the lower grade.

End of Tenure Report

If you are at the end of your tenure as External Examiner, please provide an overview of the development of the programme during your term of office. This overview will be of value to the University, the programme team and to the incoming External Examiner.

Please include commentary regarding academic standards and student achievement across cohorts during the examiner's period of appointment:

This Section is only to be completed by external examiners at the end of their tenure.
